TODAY & TOMORROW

RUSH — TIME DATED

(Newsbriefs continued)

A symposium called "Men's Reproductive Health Issues Related to Family Planning" will be held on Saturday and Sunday, February 14 and 15 in Cole Hall.

The symposium, jointly sponsored by Continuing Education in Nursing and members of the Task Force on Male Involvement in Family Planning of the American Public Health Association, will focus on meeting the needs of special populations including minority men in metropolitan areas, inner-city teenage men, and aging men.

A distinguished faculty will lead discussions and workshops including Joseph Nowinski, assistant professor, Psychiatry and author of Becoming Satisfied: A Man's Guide to Sexual Fulfillment; and Lawrence Diller, postdoctoral fellow, Pediatrics Child Study Unit. For further information call x1817.

A one-hour tape on grant writing is now available in the self-instructional media area of the library, third floor HSE. The tape is an edited version of the "Grant Writing for Development of Junior Faculty" seminar offered in November. The seminar was sponsored by the Equal Opportunity Committee of the Academic Senate, and the Office of the Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs.

A four-part workshop directed at helping parents ease the transition from childhood to the teenage years will be held February 23, March 2, 9 and 16, 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. at the UCSF Teen Clinic, A 267.

The workshop, sponsored by UCSF's Adolescent Medicine, is open to parents of teens 11 to 13 years old and costs $20 per family. Discussion will focus on bodily changes in early adolescence, sexuality, intellectual and emotional development and changes in relation to the family. For further information call x2184. Advance registration is required.

In addition, the clinic is offering a series of special classes on weight management for teenagers, called "Shapedown." The 14-week program, focusing on diet habits, exercise routines, and self-esteem will be offered at the Teen Clinic, Menlo Medical Clinic, Redwood Medical Clinic, Merced County Health Department, and the Valley Professional Plaza in Fresno.

DEADLINE

Deadline for the next issue of Today & Tomorrow, which will cover the period Feb. 21-Mar. 6, will be Tuesday, February 10, 11 a.m. Please send your copy to Allen Balderson, News & Public Information Services, 1475-4th Ave., extension 1541 or 2557.

The Fourth Annual Meeting of Langley Porter's Alumni-Faculty Association will be held on Saturday, February 28.

This year's program, "Hazards and Satisfactions of the Mental Health Professions," will bring together distinguished LPPI alumni, staff and associates who have researched, studied and personally experienced the hazards and satisfactions of mental health work.

Following introductory and welcoming remarks by Lawrence B. Lurie, president, Alumni-Faculty Association, scheduled speakers include Mardi Horowitz, professor, Psychiatry; Jann Haggstrom, associate superintendent, Nursing, LPPI and LPPI alumni Jess Groesbeck, Christine Campbell, Don A. Rockwell and George Caesar, who will lead one of the small group discussions.

Partners and spouses are especially welcome to attend this program, which will provide useful approaches for effective management and coping. For registration and program information call x7-395.

Nobel Laureate Edward M. Purcell of the Lyman Laboratory, Department of Physics, Harvard, will be the second Hitchcock Lecturer for the 1980-81 academic year. An authority in physics and astronomy, Purcell who won the 1952 Nobel Prize in Physics, will talk at UCSF on "A Physicist Looks at a Bacterium," Monday, February 23, at noon in HSW 301. It is sponsored by the Graduate Division.

Purcell will begin his appointment for the Winter semester as Hitchcock Professor at UC-Berkeley on February 8.

The Hitchcock Lecturer for the Spring semester in May will be Nobel Laureate Ilya Prigogine, a chemist from Belgium, who won the 1977 Nobel Prize for Chemistry.

NEWS BRIEFS

Nominations are now being accepted for the Chancellor's Public Service Awards. UCSF faculty, staff and students who have performed outstanding service to the campus and/or to the community are eligible.

Three awards are made each year, two of which are the "Thomas N. Burbridge" and the "Edison Uno" Awards. The awards are for $500 each, with an additional $100 given by the Black Caucus for the Burbridge Award.

Candidates for each award should demonstrate outstanding public service beyond the scope of their normal job duties. Burbridge Award candidates should demonstrate particular contributions to equal education and employment opportunity and to social justice. Uno Award candidates should be involved in a minimum of two unrelated public service activities within established social, political, and civic groups to bring about social change.

The awards will be presented on Friday, May 10. Nominations are due in the Chancellors Office, S 126 by March 31. For further information call x2401.

"Bear's Wares," Millberry Union's gift shop, is now open for business in expanded quarters on the west side of Millberry Union Plaza. In addition to offering various goods, including sundry items and film processing, the store carries a large supply of current books, fiction, nonfiction and poetry and can order any book it does not stock, according to Amelia Fields, manager. The Millberry Union Book Store on the east side of the plaza, managed by Ray Ward, now has more room for reference books and books on the social, behavioral and basic sciences. Both "Bear's Wares" and the Millberry Union Book Store are open weekdays, 8 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., Wednesday until 6:15 p.m.
